OREGON'S RECORD AT THE ST. LOUIS EXPOSITION.

Three Grand Prizes, Sixty-seven Gold Medals, One Hundred and Fifty Silver Medals and Seventy-one Bronze Medals Awarded Oregon Exhibits—Magnificent Array of Sheep on Exhibition—Prize Refused One Animal on Grounds That He Was a Freak.

The following list of medals and prizes captured by Oregon at the World's Fair at St. Louis, is pretty good answer to the question, "What's the matter with Oregon?" No other proof than this could be needed to show that "Oregon's all right!" Agriculture—(Includes one gold medal for dairy.)—1 grand prize, 42 gold medals, 56 silver medals, 22 bronze medals. Horticulture—Two grand prizes, 7 gold medals, 84 silver medals, 34 bronze medals.

Mining—Two gold medals, 1 silver medal, 10 bronze medals. (Petition pending for grand prize.)

Education, groups one and two—One gold medal, 3 silver medals, 2 bronze medals.

Charles E. Ladd received on a herd of 12 Shorthorns, 2 first prizes, 1 second prize, 1 third prize, 2 fourth prizes, 2 fifth prizes.

William Riddle, of Polk county, was awarded second prize ($100) on five head Kent sheep, and 2 first and 1 fourth on four Angora goats.

ERROR IN ADVERTISEMENT.

Big Demand Created at the Peoples Warehouse for Bananas—Demonstrated That "Ads" Are Read.

Do people read advertisements? This question is often asked, and a case has just occurred which shows conclusively that they do read advertisements in the East Oregonian.

In the page advertisement of the Peoples Warehouse, in the grocery department, an error was made—bananas were quoted to sell at 20c per dozen, instead of 35c. This caused a big rush for bananas, and the groceryman in charge, when informed by the callers that bananas were advertised in the East Oregonian at 20 cents a dozen, was puzzled.

The advertisement in question was procured and found to read: "Bananas, 20c a dozen." The head of the grocery department took the matter up with Mr. Cohen, proprietor of the store, who told him to go ahead and sell the bananas at 20 cents as the advertisements of the Peoples Warehouse must be lived up to, and he would rather lose the difference in price caused by the error than to have it said that the advertisements of the store could not be relied upon.

As a result of the error in the advertisement a large amount of bananas was sold, and a practical demonstration that advertisements are read when placed in the East Oregonian, was given.
